

Renal Pathology Society (RPS) - Sponsored Funding Opportunities for the 5th International Renal Pathology Conference (IRPC)
Zagreb, Croatia, May 18-20, 2023

The RPS and the 5th IRPC Organizing committee are happy to announce funding opportunities to attend the 5th IRPC, Zagreb, Croatia, May 18-20, 2023:

Bursary to nephrologists from lower, lower-middle- and upper-middle income countries

The RPS invites nephrologists from lower, lower-middle- and upper-middle income countries to apply for bursaries to attend the 5th IRPC, Zagreb, Croatia, May 18-20, 2023. Bursaries are available for onsite or online attendance.

Eligibility criteria:

Applicants must:

- Live in a lower, lower-middle- or upper-middle-income country (as per World Bank classifications – applicants from high-income countries are not eligible to apply).
- Have fundamental knowledge in renal pathology: be involved in, or have the opportunity to become involved in, diagnostic evaluation of renal biopsy specimens at their home institution. Nephrologists are also eligible to apply if they are responsible for the official pathologic evaluation of renal biopsy specimens at their home institution.
- No age restriction.
- RPS membership is not required, although current membership or application for membership is highly recommended.

Required documentation:

1. Application letter by the candidate.
2. CV of the candidate.
3. Letter of support by an RPS member or the local chief of service.

Applications should be sent to the Chair of the 5th IRPC,
Pr. Danica Galešić Ljubanović: 5thirpc@mef.hr

Nominations will be accepted through March 10, 2023.

RPS sponsored International Conference (Helen Liapis) Award

This award is for Trainees including pathology residents, fellows, PhD students or post-doctoral fellows, requesting RPS sponsorship for traveling or registration. This award is in the amount of 500$.

For additional information on this award, please click HERE.

Applications should be sent to the RPS Chair of the Nomination and Award Committee, Pr. Ingeborg Bajema: i.m.bajema@umcg.nl

Nominations will be accepted through March 10, 2023.

RPS Pirani Travel Award

This award is for early-career faculty RPS members residing in the US who are requesting sponsorship for travelling abroad to attend a RPS sponsored or endorsed course or a meeting. Up to $800 will be awarded to the successful candidate.

For additional information on this award, please click HERE.

Applications should be sent to the RPS Chair of the Nomination and Award Committee, Pr. Ingeborg Bajema: i.m.bajema@umcg.nl

Nominations will be accepted through March 10, 2023.

We look forward to receiving your applications!

Sincerely,

Pr. Lois Arend, RPS President

Pr. Danica Galešić Ljubanović, Chair and local host of the 5th IRPC

